the Chicago and New York plants.

It had not been my pleasure to meet sales representatives in a convention of their own. This convention of the managers of branches and salesmen of Wilson and Company in the Northeastern District of Pennsylvania, had been planned to discuss ways and means to better promote the sale of the Wilson Certified food products such as the smoked meats, poiled hams, sausage and canned truits, vegetables and meats.

It was my privilege to sit in their meeting and I am very glad I had the opportunity, because these men have got it in their souls to promote the interests of their Chief, Thomas E. Wilson, who has put intelligence and integrity into food products, something that has given his name and his products a reputation which permits hin sales organiof the branch managers that I think is a "corker," and I am passing it along to you because you will ap-preciate what it means for an or-ganization to be backed up by men who are as proud of its achievements in food productions as if they owned the business themselves.

"Isn't it great, boys, to be asso-

SWANN PROBES BROKERS' SALE OF OIL STOCK

Rangeburnett, Boosted to $6 From 40 Cts., Has Dropped to Under $2.

Paul A. Newman and Walter tries.

Officers of the new corporation in Masthaum, who was Attorney.

The manner in which two Broad street brokerage firms, Paul A. Newman & Co. and Walter J, Pierce & Co., have exploited Rangeburnett, one o the most widely advertised oil stocks, vestigated by District Attorney Swann. Rangeburnett was boosted from 40 cents to $6 on the curb, and the daily trading amounted to many thousands of shares. It then took a tumble and yesterday ranged from $1.12 % to "Strawberry Blonde" Named $1.3714.

One of Judge Swann's visitors yes terday was Loring M. Black, State Senator, who as a lawyer drew the articles of incorporation for the Rangeburnett Oil Company, according to the District Attorney. "Senator Black." said Judge Swann, "admitted to me or anywhere else, but told me that its prospects were considered good."

Laid Stress on Prospects. Senator Black is a Republican.

Paul A. Newman & Co. have offices in the Mills Building, 15 Broad street, and Walter J. Pierce & Co. are in 50 Broad street. In their rather neatly worded advertising they have never actually said that the company had struck oil, but have leaned heavily on the surroundings and future prospects. On March 19 Newman wrote to a prospective customer in Yonkers:

"We are assured by the management of the Rangeburnett Oil Company that the company possesses some most vala properties are surrounded by magnificent pools and by numbers of wells. some of which are gushers producing 3.000 to 5,000 barrels of oil daily. We are further told that the best geological advice the company has been able to obtain convinces them that their properties are very likely to bring in some sensational wells. You will appreciate that even a single gusher would probably send the stock to several dollars a and will within two or three days be actively at work on the development of the leases. And as this activity increases naturally the stock will advance in price. We regard Rangeburnett at the present quotation, 50 cents, as the best oil stock on the New York curb, and we arge you to place your orders with

The stock did go up, but John T. Dooling, Assistant District Attorney, has letters written by Frank R. Barnard of the company, saying that the advance was not justified and protesting against the brokers' advertising and other

The company was capitalized with 1,000,000 shares of $1 Newman, according to Dooling, con-tracted for 200,000 shares at fifteen cents and got an option on 400,000 more. Newthen started his advertising, circularizing and letter writing campaign. Mr. Dooling figures that he got rid of his one shares at an average price of if that is so Newman took in $900.-100, of which the company got only $45,000. Mr. Dooling made public this excerpt of a letter sent to Newman and Pierce by Barnard, vice-president of the company, on April 17:

Too High at 60 Cents.

"I regard the present price of the stock as entirely too high, and have told you so many times, even when the stock was around 60 to 70 (cents)." On April 30 there was another pro-test, President W. S. Edwards and the swretary of the company joining Vice-President Barnard in writing Newman The last big advertisement of Paul A.

The last big advertisement of Paul A. Newman & Co.'s offering appeared in some newspapers May 12. In black faced type it began: "225,000 Barrels of Oil: $791,000 Net Earnings; $1,126.400 of Equipment: About 17,000 Acres in Proven Territory." There follows: Acres in Proven Territory." There followed three lines of much smaller type, and then a huge "Rangeburntt Oil Company." Harvey N. Bloomer. Commissioner Delaney said he would consider the matter

The reader who waded through the small type learned that it was not the Rangeburnett marvel that had all this production, money, equipment and proved land, but a "long established and independent oil company, negotiations for which the vice-president of the Rangependent oil company, negotiations for in an additional elevator at the station which the vice-president of the Range-burnett company had been authorized by the directors on May 6 to close."

In an additional elevator at the station at Broadway and 168th street at the earliest possible time. Plans for such an elevator are in process of drafting.

Mr. Dooling said yesterday. "We have information that the prop erties the Rangeburnett Oil Company purpose buying were those of the Eastern Off Company. We are informed that on May 10 the deal was declared off. The minutes of a Rangeburnett company held on May 10 indicate that person who had agreed to deliver Eastern Oil Company reported that couldn't do it. We also have telegrams from G. H. Keith, manager of the tangeburnett operations at Archer City, Tex., saying that by May 23 a well was down 150 feet, nad other telegrams call-ing for money to continue the drilling and pumping, as everything is tied t.

The Chairman of the meeting made With the splendid backing that our sales people are getting from Mr. Wilson and his family of executives and his associate workers in the various plants, we must pull together and see to it that Wilson products may be found on sale on the shelves of every food merchant in our ter-ritory. Wilson products must be liberally distributed among dealers so that the consumer will have no difficulty in buying them. We must develop and cultivate the trade of the small dealer. We must not overlook the fact that the small dealer is the large dealer of next year. Banded together as we are no power on earth can hold us back rom making a place for our Company and ourselves in the business world. We know that the policy of the business is sound to the core and the fact that our motto "The Wilson Label Protects Your Table" insures a square deal for all, there is no reason why dealers everywhere should not carry a full line of Wilson and Company products, thus enabling us to establish a wonder-ful chain of dealers handling Certified foods from one end of the country to the other, and through these dealers establishing a splendid relationship between the consumers and our organization. We have confi-mentals we cannot fail to build a business that will endure in honor and service forever." The general consensus of opinion among the forty-seven representing the IRON DIVISION of Wilson and Company in Northeastern Pennsylvania, is that it is an honor to be on the Wilson and Company payroll, and that it gives them an op-portunity to satisfy their own ambition in life. They say that they like to be identified with an organization which stands for idealism and CER-TIFIED PRACTICE in business.

One man, in speaking of Wilson and Company's Certified Boiled Hams.

Domino Cane Sugars "Boys, if we have any difficulty in persuading any dealer to buy Wilson and Company's Certified Boiled Hams from us, it's our own fault. Why, do you know that we made a recent test of how this ham cuts up and we discovered that there was only one ounce of waste in the whole ham. We not only certify as to quality, but we certify to economy in use."

The pride that Wilson and Company workers feel in their organization hasn't a chance on earth of ever having a fall because it is too gen-uine and too deep rooted and so entirely justified.
